Jane Symes and Bam Winterton share a long-standing relationship with Mark Haldane and his team at Zambeze Delta Safaris. With deep knowledge of the area and extensive experience in video production and photography, the Video Wild team is very much part of the family, quietly following along behind clients to capture their memories as they unfold.

This is a place that is truly unique and deeply special, one that lives in the hearts of every professional hunter, tracker, driver, cook, skinner, and cameraman or woman who works here. It is an experience you will want to relive long after you leave, and the most powerful way to do that is through thoughtfully crafted film and photography that brings those moments back to life.

Brandon "Bam" Winterton

Known as Bam, Brandon Winterton is a passionate young filmmaker and photographer who will be leading the majority of the filming on safari. A professional hunter as well, Bam's deep understanding of animal behaviour and the bush adds exceptional value to his camera work, helping him anticipate and capture the perfect moment.

With a strong instinct for storytelling and a natural feel for life behind the lens, Bam brings energy, focus, and curiosity to every shoot. He has a deep love for both photography and filmmaking, and a growing connection to the African wilderness, developed through time spent working in and around the Zambezi Delta. Calm, adaptable, and always chasing the best light or moment, Bam is dedicated to capturing authentic, immersive safari experiences as they unfold.

Staff Mbata

Now the longest-standing part-time cameraman in the Delta, Staff Mbata has been with Zambeze Delta Safaris since its inception, starting his journey as a tracker. He is also a professional hunter, yet still picks up the camera as a backup to Bam. Recognised for his talent, enthusiasm, and deep knowledge of the bush, Staff has become exceptional at filming—he does not flinch on shots! With a natural instinct for spotting wildlife, he follows quietly behind, capturing every moment with care and precision.

Bringing years of experience and a calm, confident presence to every adventure, Staff serves as an extra cameraman for Video Wild and a trusted professional hunter for Zambeze Delta Safaris. He is always on hand to film those unforgettable moments, ensuring every journey in the bush is captured perfectly.

Jane Symes

Jane Symes is a visual storyteller, photographer, editor, and designer who oversees the creative direction and final delivery of each Video Wild project. Based primarily in the studio, she brings a strong editorial eye to shaping the story from capture to the finished film, photographs, and beautifully crafted photo books.

With a background in nature conservation and years of experience in the African wilderness, Jane ensures every project is thoughtful, cohesive, and true to the experience. While much of her work happens behind the scenes, she still makes time for a few safaris each year—after all, Bam and Staff can't have all the fun. Her combination of creative expertise and hands-on connection to the wild ensures every Video Wild project is both visually stunning and authentic.

VIDEO PRODUCTION

Video Wild is about storytelling and creating emotion through film. We operate in wild, authentic, and unmistakably African landscapes, focusing on capturing stories in places that will never be forgotten. Through film, photography, aerial drone footage, and interviews, we document every angle of your adventure to produce an hour-long, action-packed film that allows you to relive your memories from an extraordinary wilderness.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Visiting Mozambique offers a truly unique and picturesque environment, with an incredible variety of wildlife, landscapes and biomes to explore. It would be a pity to return home with those memories living only as digital files. Don't let them stay on your computer. Take them to the next level... see the next page.

DRONE

Drone adds a beautiful perspective to the wild area you find yourself in. An advantage point from which brings a different element to your video and photo book.

Zambeze Delta Safaris

Your Wild, Immortalized! - VIDEO WILD PRODUCTIONS

Video Wild Productions partners with outfitters who demonstrate genuine stewardship of the land they operate within. Zambeze Delta Safaris manages one of Africa's most remarkable wilderness concessions, where decades of careful management have protected vast ecosystems and abundant wildlife.

Our long-standing relationship with Mark Haldane and his team allows us privileged access to this remote and extraordinary landscape, where we document your safari, preserving not only the hunt, but the atmosphere, people, and environment that make the experience so exceptional.

"Only those who have hunted dangerous game can understand the silent conversation between hunter and hunted - the respect, the challenge, and the ultimate test of skill."
- Ernest Hemingway

CONSERVATION

Video Wild recognises the vital role of ethical hunting in African conservation. Few outfitters lead in this space, but well-managed concessions like Zambeze Delta Safaris actively support anti-poaching, habitat protection, and community development. Every safari we capture exists within this living landscape, and our work preserves not just the hunt, but the environment in which it unfolds.

HUNTING

Video Wild respects both the animal and the hunter. Our work is conducted with integrity toward each, without ever compromising our ethical values. Our final products and media posts uphold this respect, ensuring that every image and story is shared with professionalism and care. We work with clients who share these values and this commitment to responsible storytelling.
